

LAW AND DOLLAR TO ARRIVE TODAY

Coast Capitalists Going Through to the Orient on Great Trade Venture.

Among the passengers on the Manchu due here from San Francisco today is Herbert E. Law, who for a number of years has been one of the brainy and influential men in the business and finances of San Francisco.

The mainland papers during the past few weeks have published extensive accounts of the organization of the Western Steel Company, a thirty-million dollar corporation, with a steel plant at Irondeau, Washington. Mr. Law organized this big corporation, which has taken over the steel plant formerly owned and controlled by the Moore interests of Seattle, and is now developing it to a point where it will equal the best steel plants in the world.

The corporation has secured the ownership of the finest and most extensive coal and iron ore deposits on the Pacific Coast, deposits which equal in extent and quality some of the best known in the world. The organization of the Western Steel Company is looked on as marking the beginning of an era in the development of the steel industry west of the Rocky Mountains, and in the development of all lines of the material resources of the Pacific Coast.

Aside from his business enterprises, which at one time included the Fairmont Hotel, which he and his brother, Dr. Hartland Law, owned before the fire and rebuilt afterwards, and the Monadnock and other well-known business buildings, Mr. Law has given time and effort to movements designed to better and beautify San Francisco.

He is on his way to the Orient in connection with the business of the Western Steel Company. The company, with its ownership of the rich and newly discovered coal and iron ore deposits, is believed to be in a position to revolutionize the steel and iron trade with China and Japan. In the past, Europe, and particularly England and Germany, have controlled that trade, but with the manufacture of steel on the Pacific Coast at a cost of production as low, or lower, than the lowest Pittsburgh cost, changed conditions in this respect are believed to be imminent. The result must be a wonderful impetus to the trade between the Pacific Coast and the Orient, which must benefit both.

With Mr. Law in this big business trip to the Orient, is Captain Robert Dollar, of the Dollar Steamship Company, a man who has a big influence in Pacific Ocean transportation matters. Captain Dollar is accompanied by his wife.

DIPHTHERIA—HOW IT MAY BE AVOIDED.

Diphtheria is usually contracted when the child has a cold. The cold prepares the child's system for the reception and development of the diphtheria germs. When there are cases of diphtheria in the neighborhood children that have colds should be kept at home and off the street until recovered. Give them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and they will not have to remain at home long. It also cleans out the throat when it is formed in a child's throat when it has a cold, and minimizes the risk of contracting infectious diseases. For sale by all dealers.
